These days, many parents give their children smartphones or tablets to use.

Do you think children should have these electronic devices?

Education / Convenience / Safety

I think that many children should have smartphones or tablets for the following two reasons.

First, it is convenience to do homework and study various subjects. For example, only they have it wherever they can learn.

コメントの追加 [内藤1]: these devices are

Second, it is safety not to hand out documents which written in personal information in vain. < it is safer to distribute documents such as test papers online.

コメントの追加 [内藤2]: they can learn with these electronic devices whenever and wherever. いつでもどこでも、これらの電子機器を使って学ぶことができる

As a result, individuals can keep protecting their own personal information like test scores.

In conclusion, for the above two reasons, I believe that the number of children who own individual electronic equipments should increase. (82 words)

Q) Could you think about negative points of using smartphones or tablets for children?

- ① Individuals tend to use these electric devices too much instead of studying.
- ② They can not control their desire which they want to use it.
- ③ Consequently, their test scores may be lower.

(Thus, they use too long time to permit their parents. < children cannot keep promise not to use these devices with their parents.>)

コメントの追加 [内藤3]: cannot

コメントの追加 [内藤4]: that 接続詞 (desire = that 以下)

* which 関係代名詞の後ろは不完全文

「彼らがそれを使いたい」は完全文なので✕

EX. desire which they have 「彼らが持っている欲望」
